PRESIDENT'S CORNER

Dear Division Brothers,

With the month of February 2016 upon us, recruitment has begun to yield new members to our Division. Please continue to seek qualified Irishmen to pledge to our Order and I look forward to holding a Shamrock Degree for all Division Brothers who have not had the opportunity to make the Degree next month.

Also in the month of February, I will initiate of two of our biggest fund raisers of the year for our parishes and to support our community needs. I ask each Division member to please support myself and Vice President Dan Mulhern in making the 2016 Trip for Two to Ireland Raffle and our 3rd Annual Shamrock Golf Tournament successful. The Trip for Two Raffle begins at the Annual St. Patrick Day parade and Irish festival at Blue and Gray Brewery on Saturday, March 12th and the Shamrock Golf Tournament will take place on Monday, April 18th at Meadows Farms Golf Course. Please contact myself or Dan Mulhern at Division meetings or by e-mail ramslie@comcast.net/djmulhern1@msn.com to let us know what support you can provide. All of these good works of charity will not be possible without your support.

During the month of March, our Heritage Committee led by Hugh O'Brien, John Hogan, Des Flanagan and Bill Halpin will be at public libraries in the Fredericksburg area to commemorate Irish American Heritage Month. Other key events during the month of March include a Mass at historic St. Mary Catholic Church in Alexandria (8 AM) followed by the Alexandria St. Patrick Day Parade on Saturday, March 5th; there is also the 38th annual Gaelic Mass at the Cathedral of St. Thomas Moore on Monday, March 14 at 7:30PM celebrated by Reverend Gerard Creedon from Co. Charity work and coordination would not be possible for our four parishes without the work of our Charities Committee Brothers. This committee is comprised of Bill Phillips of St. Patrick's, Hugh O'Brien of St. Jude's, John Harris of St. Matthews and Jack Grey of St. Mary's. I will ask them to please coordinate with their Pastor's and ensure our Division meets desired parish needs.

OUR IRISH HERITAGE

“We must study our Heritage, for we can only pass on what we preserve. If we only retain trivia ... and fashionable, but distorted versions of our history from uniformed media, we have nothing of lasting value to offer our children about who they really are.” National AOH Historian, Mike McCormick

FIFTH IN OUR SERIES OF IRISH PATRIOTS - EASTER 1916

Eamonn Ceannt: Sept 21, 1881 ~ May 8, 1916

Eamonn Ceannt was born in County Galway, the son of a Royal Irish Constabulary officer. When his father was transferred to Dublin, Eamon was educated at the local National School and later at the Christian Brother School on N. Richmond St. Post-graduation he worked as accountant in the Treasury Dept. of Dublin Corporation. He was impressed (some say `radicalized_) after attending commemorations of the 1798 United Irishmen Rising and especially the Battle of Ballinamuck that marked the defeat of the French allies during the 1798 Rebellion.

He joined the Gaelic League in 1899, taught Irish to newcomers, and became a member of its governing body. A talented musician and uilleann piper, he founded the Dublin Pipers' Club and joined Sinn Fein in 1907 and was recruited into Irish Republican Brotherhood (IRB) by Seán MacDiarmada. He moved up the ranks to be a member of the IRB Supreme Council and its Military Committee. After taking part in the 1914 Howth gun running episode, Ceannt was a charter member of the Irish Volunteers and elected to Provisional Committee of Irish Volunteers. In 1913 he was a Captain in Company A, 4th Battalion.

Ceannt was described as a very tall man and enjoyed playing the pipes. He was a sincere and good person, rather fanatical, but really one of the nicest and best people in the movement. In 1908 he led Irish athletes to Rome for the jubilee of Pius X. In a private audience he played the uilleann pipes for his Holiness.

During the Rising of 1916, Ceannt, signatory to Easter Rising Proclamation, held the rank of commandant in command of the South Dublin Union and Marrowbone Road Distillery outposts of the Volunteers. It is told that during the fighting there he remained calm, brave and gentle. His unit inflicted heavy losses on British officers and men before the South Dublin Union was over run.

The British imprisoned Ceannt at Kilmainham Gaol where he was sentenced to death. Between 3.45 and 4.05AM on 8 May 1916, Eamonn Ceannt was taken to Stonebreakers Yard and executed by firing squad. His last words were: `I bear no ill-will towards those against whom I have fought. I have found the common soldiers and higher officers human and companionable, even the English who were actually in the fight against us. Thank God soldiering for Ireland has opened my heart and made me see poor humanity where I expected to see only scorn and reproach_. His remains were later buried in Arbour Lane Cemetery. His widow founded the White Cross to help families impoverished by British actions.

Mike McCormick's book The Road to Rebellion is an excellent, illustrated chronicle of the reasons for the Easter Rising, the events of the six-day battle, and profiles of the 16 executed patriots. This book should be required reading for all Hibernians as we prepare to celebrate the Easter Rising centennial next spring. Order it at: www.shamrockandclover.com

IRISH-AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

This is our month! We have many opportunities to show our Irish heritage beginning with month-long displays at several regional libraries. These displays depict Irish/Irish-Americans are inextricably linked to the development of the United States in fields from labor and politics to science and leadership. Naturally, on the 100th anniversary, the Easter Rising of 1916 will be featured. The Heritage Committee is seeking volunteers to be present during specified hours at the libraries. On March 5, is the all-important first St Patrick Parade in Alexandria, an event in which our division should be a participant. On March 12 is our own Fredericksburg St Patrick Day Parade and Irish Festival at Blue and Grey Brewery. This is where we kick-off our annual Trip for Two to Ireland Raffle. On March 14, is the 38th Annual Gaelic Mass (in the Irish language) honoring St Patrick and celebrated by Father Gerry Creedon from Co. Cork, Ireland. This year's Mass is at the Cathedral of St. Thomas Moore @7:30PM. Bishop Loverde, a Hibernian brother of the Herbert- Cady Division will give the Homily. This is followed by the Meagher Division St Patrick Day Mass to be celebrated by Father Kevin Fimian on March 17 (6:30PM) at St Patrick Church. (See Upcoming Events on page 5)

Please pray for the repose of the souls of deceased Gen. Meagher Division Brothers and all deceased Hibernians and family members. We pray especially for the repose of the soul of General Meagher Division charter member Brother Joe O'Connor. May God's perpetual light shine upon all deceased Hibernians. Also pray for the repose of the souls of:

James T. Fegan, father of Brother Mike Fegan (7 Feb);

Joyce O'Connor, daughter-in-law Julia O'Connor (24 Jan);

Bridget McCarthy, wife of Bill Halpin's Infantry School classmate (suddenly 24 Dec 15); and

Honorable Tom O'Connell, Col, USA (ret.), Bill Halpin's friend and colleague of more than 40 years (suddenly 19 Jan)

May they all rest in peace

Please pray for the comfort and healing of Brothers Dick Dowd, Jim McMorrow, Mike Creegan (VAAOH webmaster); Andy Link's mother, Eileen and Andy's father and care giver, Dick Link; and Matthew Carroll (Irish Viet Nam Veterans Memorial Project).

Pray to Mary Immaculate, Patroness of the United States, for preservation of our religious freedoms and for an unambiguous national moral compass. This is critically important in this era of progressive secularism and threats from patently evil terror organizations.
